We can include optional personal information with your listing in the Forum's Annual Directory. This can be accomplishments or activities, special concerns, or (non-political!) statements of personal opinion – in general, information about you that other Forum members would find interesting or useful. If you would like a personal comment in our Annual Directory, write it here:

(If you have an entry now in place, please review it for currency. If you would like it continued as it is now, please place an X here: _____)

We would like to use email more to communicate with our members because of its timeliness, flexibility and to save paper. Messages we send might include notices of important events (annual meeting, special presentations, trips for Forum members, etc.), notices of opportunities to participate in Forum programs or serve on committees, and Forum business such as our annual dues notices. We never give or sell our list of addresses. If you don't want your email address listed in our Annual Directory, please place an X here: _____

My email address is: _____
