

Influencing San Rafael City Council

Influences that Support our Agenda

Cory Bytof

- Sustainability Program Manager of San Rafael
- 2 year action plan includes promoting 'electrify marin'
- Met State sustainability goal of reducing GHGE by 15% in 2019

See more about the 2 year plan here and San Rafael sustainability here!

Points of pressure:

- Current, active, leader in the county, and mission aligned
- What is preventing San Rafael from running only electric machines instead of SOREs?

Bill Carney

- President of Sustainable San Rafael

Points of Pressure:

- Advocacy ally
- Could be a great place to get critical mass around the issue, signatures, volunteers, etc.

Others

Charles McGlashan

Before his untimely death, he was a huge champion in pushing Marin towards prioritizing electrification

Greg Brockbank

Big player in pushing for Marin energy independence, swing vote in Marin moving towards adopting the SORE act.

Influences That are not so Interested

PG&E

Has opposed the independence of Marin Energy because it goes against the long term existence of PG&E as an energy providing monopoly

Marin Clean Energy is an example of an independent clean energy company that threatens PG&E, especially if the model spreads.

Barbara Heller

- Long term San Rafael City council woman
- Voted no on Marin Energy Independence and was against transitioning from SOREs due to 'financial risk'

Power Map

- Support +

- Influence +

-Lawn and Landscape Companies	-Cory Bytoff PG&E
-Barbara Heller	-Bill Carney -Landscape workers